

Photo: Ring of Reconciliation, Kori Czuy - Utoday Story - Illuminated Dreamcatcher

THE FACULTY OF GRADUATE STUDIES HOSTS:

“DECOLONIZING DISSERTATIONS”

The Faculty of Graduate Studies will be hosting a series of events focused on Decolonizing Dissertations. These events will critically analyze the entire process that culminates in the dissertation or thesis (including: admissions, coursework, committee, candidacy, ethics, research process, dissemination, and representation). The impetus of this series is in response to the University of Calgary’s Indigenous Strategy which will be officially launched this fall.

The first event will be held on Oct 19th and will focus on gathering the perspectives and experiences of graduate students on the challenges they face while trying to learn about, engage with, and embody decolonial processes in their graduate work.

The Dean of Graduate Studies, Lisa Young, will join us and launch our series with a note on the importance of this initiative.

OCTOBER 19TH

2:30 PM – 4:30 PM

CROWSNEST HALL
MULTIPURPOSE
ROOM -
ROOM 125

ALL GRADUATE STUDENTS WELCOME!

For more information contact:

Vicki Bouvier

ymbouvie@ucalgary.ca

Aruna Srivastava

asrivast@ucalgary.ca